Official Medals of the U.S. Mint

The 1988 U.S. Mint catalogue proudly presents three striking new medals honoring the achievement of Americans Lady Bird Johnson, Harry Chapin and George and Ira Gershwin. Bronze replicas of the actual gold medals awarded by Congress, the Lady Bird Johnson Medal recognizes the former First Lady's efforts to preserve and enhance the nation's environment, while the Harry Chapin medal salutes the memory of the singer who, through his music, brought the severe international food shortage to public attention. The songwriting genius and continuing musical influence of George and Ira Gershwin are commemorated in a handsome medal that depicts the music and lyrics for "Of Thee I Sing."

IN CELEBRATION OF AMERICANS

Coins and Medals of the United States Mint

CELEBRATING THE ACHIEVEMENT OF AMERICANS

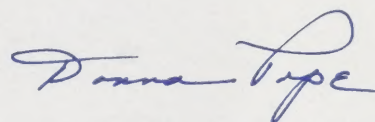

Behind the events of the past two centuries stand the individual men and women whose beliefs and efforts have shaped our nation. America's history is their story—and the coins and medals of the U.S. Mint record their many achievements with beauty.

For years, the U.S. Mint has celebrated the spirit of individual Americans on exquisitely detailed coins used in general currency. Benjamin Franklin, statesman and inventor, the American Indian, the Continental soldier, Susan B. Anthony, woman suffrage leader, and a number of U.S. Presidents have appeared on Mint coinage, joined with the symbols of peace, liberty and unity for which our nation stands.

The Official Medals of the U.S. Mint, many of which are bronze duplicates of actual Congressional medals, also celebrate individuals from all walks of life—among them the men and women of the Armed Forces, singer Marian Anderson, film actor John Wayne, boxing champion Joe Louis, and aviator Chuck Yeager. In the 1988 catalogue, we are proud to present three new additions to our extensive collection—medals honoring Lady Bird Johnson, George and Ira Gershwin, and Harry Chapin.

This year's offerings are also notable for the 1988 Olympic gold and silver coins that commemorate the spirit and accomplishment of our Olympic athletes—men and women whose dedication to their disciplines is a continual source of pride to all of us. By choosing these exquisite emblems of their hopes and efforts, you purchase beautiful examples of the minter's art while contributing to the ongoing support of some of America's finest ambassadors.

All of the coins and medals in this catalogue reflect the renowned craftsmanship of the United States Mint. By buying them, you join in the celebration of our country's heroes and citizens. As personal treasures to add to your own coin collection, or as gifts for relatives and friends, I'm sure you'll agree that the items in these pages are a unique and exciting way to share our national heritage.

THE 1988 U.S. OLYMPIC COINS

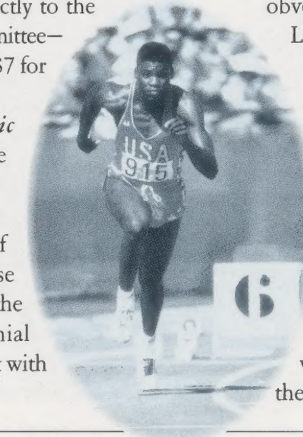

The Five-Dollar Olympic Gold Coin/The One-Dollar Olympic Silver Coin

Enduring Symbols of Athletic Achievement The superb spirit of our Olympic athletes, captured in timeless examples of the minter's art... the 1988 U.S. Olympic Coins are surely among the most memorable keepsakes of America's participation in the 1988 Olympic Games. By collecting them, you join in support of America's athletic legacy: a portion of the purchase price goes directly to the United States Olympic Committee—$35 for each gold coin, and $7 for each silver dollar.

The Five-Dollar Olympic Gold Coin The obverse of the Olympic gold coin features the likeness of Nike, goddess of Victory, with a crown of olive leaves. The reverse evokes the spectacle of the Games and the quadrennial renewal of the Olympic spirit with a stylized Olympic Flame.

The proof version is distinguished by the cameo effect of a frosted image on a polished mirror-like background. The uncirculated version, a mint condition coin taken directly from the press, features a lustrous uniform finish. Each bears the "W" mint mark signifying production at the West Point Mint.

The One-Dollar Olympic Silver Coin The obverse design of this coin depicts Lady Liberty's torch merging with the Olympic torch in a single enduring flame, circled by olive branches symbolic of the peaceful spirit of the Games. The reverse bears the logo of the U.S. Olympic Team, framed by a graceful pair of olive branches. The proof version is marked with "S" for the San Francisco Mint; the uncirculated version has the mint mark "D" for the Denver Mint.

The strength and grace of athletes such as gold-medalist Carl Lewis embody America's Olympic spirit.

THE SUSAN B. ANTHONY DOLLAR

Introduced in 1979 as an alternative to the dollar note, the Susan B. Anthony dollar is the first circulating American coin to depict a specific American woman. A profile of Miss Anthony, one of the founders of the U.S. women's suffrage movement, is featured on the obverse, while the reverse represents the Apollo XI spacecraft's historic moon landing.

Uncirculated Susan B. Anthony Dollar Souvenir Set Uncirculated 1979 and 1980 Susan B. Anthony dollars may still be obtained from the U.S. Mint. Their fine craftsmanship and historical significance ensure that these coins will be treasured as collector's items and gifts by all who value the pioneering American spirit.

The pioneering efforts of suffragette Susan B. Anthony bore fruit 100 years after her birth, when the 19th Amendment gave women the vote.

THE 1988 U.S. MINT PROOF COIN SET

Perennial favorites of seasoned collectors, popular with beginners, proof coins are considered the highest example of the minter's art. Prized for their superb detailing and jewel-like luster, these exceptional coins are the result of a painstaking, highly specialized minting process. Each coin is struck at least twice with carefully finished and polished dies to create a distinctive cameo effect of frosted image on a mirror-like background.

Only coins that meet the Mint's most exacting standards are designated "proof." Once reserved as gifts for visiting dignitaries, proof coins were first offered for public sale in the 1850's, under the ninth Director of the U.S. Mint, James Ross Snowden.

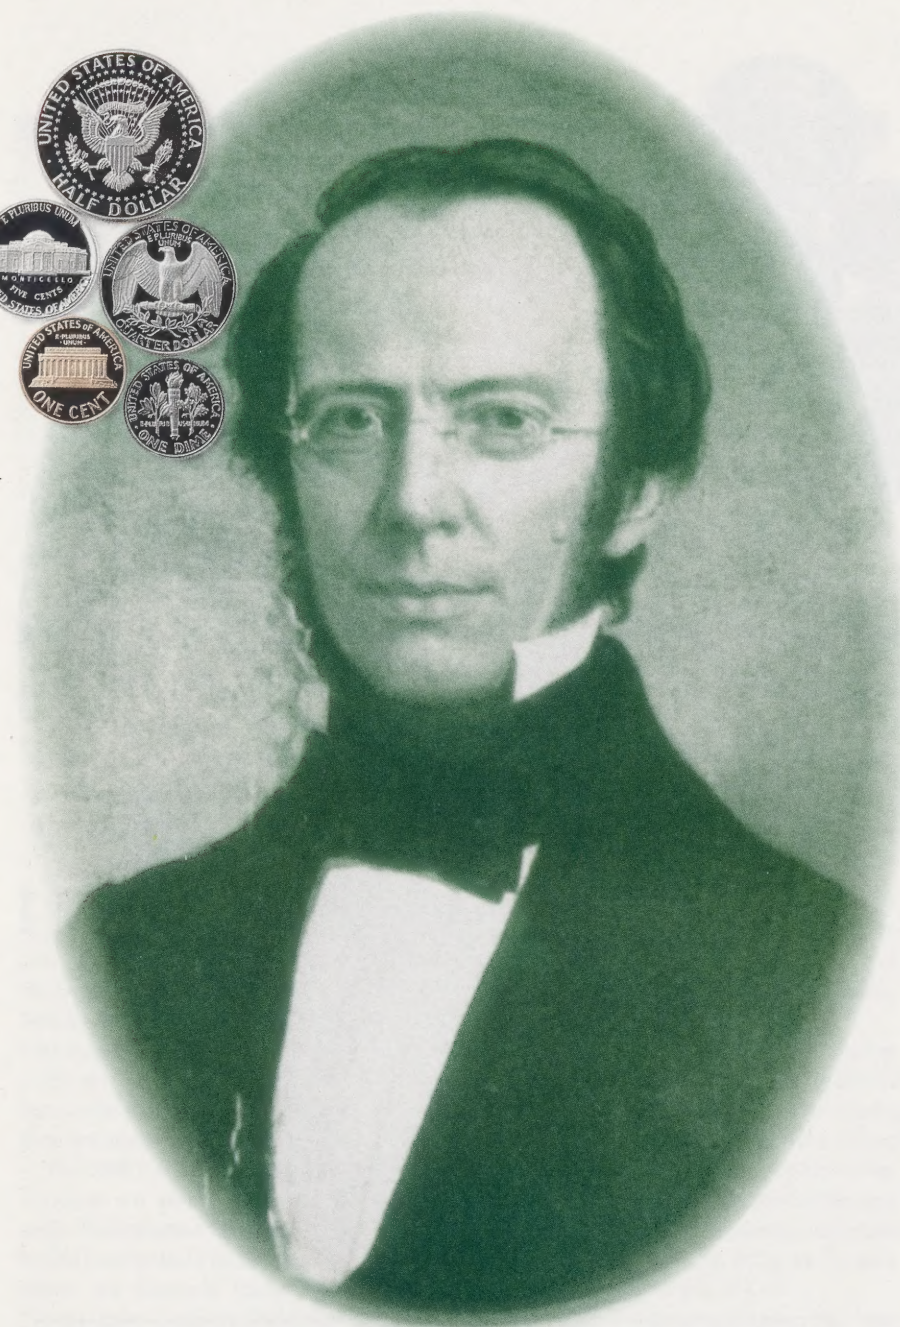

Since that time, they have been eagerly sought by those who appreciate their superb craftsmanship.

Since 1968, proof versions of circulating coins have been produced exclusively at the San Francisco Mint. The 1988 U.S. Mint Proof Coin Set includes gleaming examples of the Kennedy half-dollar, Washington quarter, Roosevelt dime, Jefferson nickel and Lincoln cent, all bearing the distinctive "S" mint mark.

The Proof Set is packaged in an attractive, sonically sealed protective case, and is accompanied by a detailed specification card, making it a superb addition to any collection, as well as an excellent gift.

Price: $11.00 per set Option No. P88

THE 1988 U.S. MINT UNCIRCULATED COIN SET

Uncirculated sets have appealed strongly to numismatists and novice collectors since they were first offered to the public more than 40 years ago. Struck with the same dies used for circulating coinage, these coins are cleaned and packaged immediately to preserve their uncirculated luster.

The 1988 Uncirculated Set contains ten coins—one of each denomination produced by the Denver and Philadelphia Mints: the Kennedy half-dollar, Washington quarter, Roosevelt dime, Jefferson nickel and Lincoln cent. The set also features a mint mark piece from each facility, representative of the "D" and "P" mint marks that appear on the coins.

Packaged at the producing Mint in soft, durable Mylar® for lasting protection and beauty, the Uncirculated Set is presented in a collector's envelope accompanied by an informative brochure containing interesting facts and specifications for each denomination of coin.

On August 10, 1927, President Calvin Coolidge dedicated Mount Rushmore as a national memorial honoring George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt. By October 31, 1941, the mountainside had been transformed into one of the nation's most revered monuments. Anticipating the 50th anniversary of the completion of work on Mount Rushmore, the U.S. Mint has issued a specially packaged set of four Presidential Miniature Medals celebrating the Presidents represented on the mountain face in South Dakota's Black Hills.

This handsomely packaged set is a vivid souvenir of individual commitment to a grand vision of America—a perfect gift choice for teachers, students, historians and collectors.
